From: Washington Technology Daily
To: dwest@bakersfieldpd.us
Subject: DOD"s $8.2B email contract moves forward
Date: Monday, February 4, 2019 5:02:03 AM

Having trouble viewing this e-mail? Click here to view as a Web page.

Add WT@1105direct.com to your contacts/whitelist to ensure delivery.

SPONSOR: Join Us February 22nd – 2019 Winning Strategies

2/4/2019

F E A T U R E D

DOD's $8.2B email contract moves forward

The Defense Department advances its massive commercial cloud email and collaboration contract. And just like in JEDI, potential bidders have a high bar to clear.

Booz Allen expects quick bounce back despite shutdown hit

Booz Allen Hamilton saw a $20 million revenue hit during the recent government shutdown but expects solid growth for its fiscal 2019.

Project 38: SAIC's Tony Moraco on the importance of the Engility acquisition

Listen to our interview with SAIC CEO Tony Moraco as he shares how buying Engility accelerates SAIC's growth strategy.

SAIC scores early takeaway win with Engility deal

Just a couple weeks after closing its $2.5 billion deal for Engility, SAIC takes away a $655 million contract in the space sector.

Tyler Technologies' deal for MicroPact moves needle on federal presence

Once mainly state and local-focused, public sector software company Tyler Technologies scales up its federal footprint in acquiring MicroPact.

Can better data make AI smarter?

IBM has developed and released a new data set with a million images for training the artificial intelligence that drives facial recognition systems.

Iridium names new COO

Iridium Communications announces the retirement of Chief Operating Officer Scott Smith and his successor.

SPONSORED BY: Washington Technology Power Breakfast

Join Us February 22nd – 2019 Winning Strategies

Attend this Power Breakfast hear seasoned experts discuss strategies for capturing new business and maintaining your position in the government market. You'll also hear the results of Washington Technology's market research into how executives see the future of government contracting. We'll explore specific strategies and discuss the opportunities and challenges companies face.

Register Today!

CACI's latest deals advance its transformation

With LGS and Mastodon in tow for almost $1 billion total, CACI International is full-steam ahead in transforming itself into a major provider of products and solutions to defense and intelligence customers.

For Northrop's new CEO, budget cap return looms in the foreground

For Northrop Grumman's new CEO Kathy Warden, the government shutdown is less of a threat than a possible return of sequestration in the next fiscal year.

One thing to do whether another shutdown comes or not

Our sibling publication FCW has surveyed government readers about the shutdown and their answers offer some guidance to contractors.

SPONSORED BY: Digital Services Event

Join us February 27th for this FCW event

Attend this one-day event to hear Government thought- leaders in digital services explore how to use automation to improve the customer experience and share strategies for optimizing cybersecurity for digital government. You'll also receive best practices for navigating digital transformation obstacles and creating the ultimate government experience. Don't miss this event

Register Today!

Special Reports

Project 38: Former GOP Congressman Tom Davis shares his thoughts on the shutdown

Listen in on our recent conversation with former Republican Congressman Tom Davis and get his insights on the government shutdown and what he would suggest as a way out.

Project 38: PSC's David Berteau on contractors weathering the shutdown

In this interview, Professional Services Council President and CEO David Berteau shares what he is hearing from industry on the impact of the government shutdown and steps contractors should take now to get ready for when the government reopens. Whenever that is.

Behind the curtain: A look at the government's hidden market

Along with the rise of multiple award contracts, the government has seen the growth of a huge, lucrative market that is largely hidden from view.

FEEDBACK | ADVERTISE | UNSUBSCRIBE PRIVACY

Washington Technology
1105 Government Information Group
8251 Greensboro Drive, Suite 510
McLean, VA 22102
703-876-5100

Copyright 2019 1105 Media Inc. Washington Technology newsletters may only be redistributed in their unedited form. Written permission from the editor must be obtained to reprint the information contained within this newsletter.